With the end of 2021 fast approaching, it’s time to consider what still needs to be done for the year and what’s coming on the compliance track.

The webinar will assess what compliance actions are still outstanding for the year and look ahead to 2022, including:

- End-of-year priorities such as ACA reporting
- New limits published by the Department of the Treasury
- New rules that will be coming into effect
- COVID-related changes that could be discontinued
- New affordability thresholds
- A 2022 compliance calendar

This 60-minute intermediate-level webinar will help employers and other support personnel understand their obligations for the remainder of 2021 and look at what's coming up in the new year.
